University Funds Overview

(Definitions Updated June 2018)

All members of the campus community who have been delegated the responsibility to approve expenditures have the responsibility to ensure funds for their area of responsibility are used appropriately and legally, and not over-committed regardless of source. They must become familiar with spending guidelines and restrictions for the various funds; and must certify that they have read the Funds Overview, especially as it pertains to expenditures from funds that they have been authorized to approve.

Humboldt State University funds come from a variety of sources and are accounted for separately. Among the major sources are: state funds, student fees, trust and self-supporting funds (College of Extended Education and Global Engagement, Parking Services, Student Housing, Student Health and Psychology Services, etc.), gifts, grants and contracts, commercial operations, Associated Students, and state and non-state capital outlay funds.

In general, funds from gifts are deposited in the Advancement Corporation; funds from commercial operations are deposited in the University Center Corporation; most grants and contracts are deposited with the Sponsored Programs Foundation; and Associated Student Body fees are deposited in the Associated Students Corporation. As official Auxiliary Organizations they each have their own financial and business operations, with policies and procedures that control the expenditure of funds for which they are responsible. At HSU, Advancement and Sponsored Programs each contract with the State entity to process transactions for each of their business operations. The State provides guidance for business practices and follows those procedures unless one of the foundations has policies or procedures that direct differently. In addition, there are two ancillary operations which are partially state funded: KHSU radio station and the Children's Center. Gift funds to either KHSU or the Children's Center are deposited to the Advancement Corporation; and, in general, grant funds to either KHSU or the Children's Center are deposited to the Sponsored Programs Foundation.

To be responsible fiscal stewards of these public funds, care must be taken to ensure that they can be fully accounted for under any inquiry. Departments may be asked to document the purpose of a particular purchase or expense for approval, public records requests and/or audit purposes. Departments are also responsible for following Federal, State, CSU and University policy (e.g. Hospitality Expense) when spending public funds. Inappropriate expenses will be disallowed and the department will have to identify other appropriate funding.

University monies fall into three major categories: operating funds, financial aid funds and construction, maintenance and repair funds. Operating funds are used for the day-to-day expenditures of the university. Financial aid funds are used to help students address their financial need. Lastly, construction, maintenance and repair funds are used for major projects, such as construction and infrastructure improvements, and for minor projects involving maintenance and repairs.

Humboldt State University

Although the following fund classifications and guidelines include current University fund coding, these codes are subject to change due to updates in laws, policies and instructions from the Chancellor's Office. For the most up-to-date listing of our university fund codes, contact Financial Services-Accounting. Listed below are the primary funds most commonly used by departmental users while conducting University business.

OPERATING FUNDS

State Operating Fund

This fund is a combination of State General Fund appropriations and student tuition fees (Category I/II/III/IV fees). The State General Fund is an appropriation from the State of California which is allocated to the campus through the California State University (CSU) Board of Trustees. The student tuition fees are payments for mandatory tuition and campus fees, non-resident tuition, application fees, and professional program fees (Category I fees). The State Operating Fund has an annual budget which is allocated and serves as the main source of funds that supports the campus' day-to-day operations. The use of this fund is governed by state law, administrative code, and Trustee and campus policy; it is to support basic instruction and other mandatory university costs.

Spending Restrictions:

Think like stewards of State taxpayers' money. Use State funds responsibly. Expenses must be directly related to, or associated with, the active conduct of official CSU business. They must be cost effective, in accordance with the best use of public funds, and conform to IRS regulations.

Some of the things that State Operating funds may be used for: (see ICSUAM 1301.00)

- When an employee acts as an official host, the occasion must, in the best judgment of the approving authority, serve a clear CSU business purpose, with no personal benefit derived by the official host or other employees. Expenditures should be cost-effective and in accordance with the best use of public funds.
- Expenses related to memorial services, celebrations of retirement, and farewell gatherings for employees separating with at least 5 years of service are permissible. (see ICSUAM 1301.00, section 601)
- Promotional item expenditures when the recipients of the promotional item are NOT university employees
- Participation of employees or official guests at CSU fundraising events to the extent that such expenditures do not exceed the projected net revenue of the activity – For example, if a fundraising event is expected to net $1,000 in revenue, one should not plan to spend State funds of more than $1,000 on employee or guest expenses.

Humboldt State University

Some of the things that State Operating funds may not be used for: (see ICSUAM 1301.00)

- A “gift” from state funds -- a short list of expenditures that are not allowed includes t-shirts, coffee cups, gas cards, wine, gift cards for awards
- Use of a university employee or university resource to generate non-state revenue that does not reimburse a “State funded” activity
- Expenses such as alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, gifts, memberships in social organizations, entertainment services, or meals and light refreshments for meetings and events attended only by employees of the same work location
- Promotional item expenditures when the recipients of the promotional item are University employees
- Expenses related to employee birthdays, weddings, anniversaries, and baby showers
- Student awards/scholarships
- Capital projects – see Capital Spending
