

Wildlife Ecology Seminar Series

Fall 2014

September 18	Joe Szewczak Faculty, HSU Department of Biology	Batpourri: an update on current issues in bat biology and conservation
September 25	Andrew Kinziger Faculty, HSU Department of Fisheries Biology	Temporal genetic analysis of the endangered tidewater goby: metapopulation dynamics or drift in isolation
October 2	Graduate Student talks	(CLOSED SESSION)
October 9	Graduate Student talks	(CLOSED SESSION)
October 16	Madhusudan Katti Associate Professor, Fresno State	Whither biodiversity in the concrete jungles of the Anthropocene?
October 23	Keith Slauson Research Ecologist, Redwood Sciences Lab, USFS	Efficacy of assisted dispersal for restoration of the Humboldt Marten
October 30	Mourad Gabriel Executive Director and Senior Ecologist, Integral Ecology Research Center	Conservation perils from marijuana cultivation on public lands in California
November 6	Karen Kovacs Wildlife Program Manager, Northern Region, CDFW	TBD
Monday, November 10 @ Van Duzer Theater	Jeff Black – Scholar of the Year Faculty, HSU Department of Wildlife	Citizen science, Steller sex, and chasing wild geese.
November 13	Sarah Sawyer Assistant Regional Ecologist, USFS	Where ecology meets forest management.
November 20	Bill Zielinski Research Ecologist, Redwood Sciences Lab, USFS	Research contributions to the conservation of the endangered Point Arena Mountain Beaver
November 27	Thanksgiving	NO SEMINAR
December 4	Sarah Kross Smith Conservation Post-Doctoral Fellow, UC Davis	A fine balance: the costs and benefits of farming to wildlife and wildlife to farming
December 11	Greta Wengert Assistant Director and Senior Ecologist, Integral Ecology Research Center	Intraguild predation risk in a forest carnivore community

Thursdays 4-5 pm WFB 258